

Are you a top Marketer?

Why work for Edgars

Do you want to disrupt the construction industry and push the boundaries of marketing? Do you want to do things differently, set new standards and be part of a team always striving for success?

We are market leaders, rapidly growing and looking for a marketing guru to join our winning team.

What you will be doing

The role is suitable for someone with proven marketing experience looking to take on an exciting new challenge and eager to join a company defining its future.

The role will include implementing and measuring the marketing activities across the business. You will lead and develop the future marketing strategy to achieve the business objectives alongside the management team.

What you will get

In exchange for being a key part of the leadership team, you will receive a highly competitive salary, generous leave entitlements, as well as the opportunity for clear career progression. You will be part of a company that has a distinguished reputation, vibrant culture, flexible working options and two adorable office dogs.

To apply for the position, please email your CV and cover letter to careers@edgarslimited.co.uk
